Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. The examiner acknowledges the receipt of the argument filed February 21, 2007. Claims 1, 10, 12-17 are pending. Claims 12-17 are drawn to non-elected subject matter. Claims 1, 10 are examined with merit.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 1713

3. Claims 1, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kerker et al. (US patent 5,604,273) in view of Ohta et al. (US Patent 5,660,626), further in view of Berke et al. (US Patent 5,571,319), and yet, still further in view of Kloetzer et al. (US Patent 4,927,463) for the reasons adequately set forth from paragraph 3 of the office action of October 27, 2006.

4. Claims 1, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kerker et al. (US patent 5,604,273) in view of Ohta et al. (US Patent 5,660,626), further in view of Kloetzer et al. (US Patent 4,927,463) for the reasons adequately set forth from paragraph 4 of the office action of October 27, 2006.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed February 21, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that Kerker et al. (col. 3, line 12-31) disclose a structure that is not a product of the second or the third process for preparing the component A of claim 1. However, the structure of Kerker et al. meets the structure of the first process for preparing the component A of claim 1. Applicants must recognize that the claimed first, second, and third processes are written in the form of a Markush group (claim 1, line 5-7).

Art Unit: 1713

Although applicants argue that Ohta et al. (col. 9, line 25-29) only disclose the use of diethylene glycol dipropylene glycol monobutyl ether, not the polypropyleneglycol monoalkyl ether as claimed, applicants fail to recognize that Ohta et al. (col. 2, line 13) broadly teach the use of oligoalkyleneglycol monoalkylethers which include the propyleneglycol monoalkyl ether as claimed. Applicants must recognize that the recitation of "diethylene glycol dipropylene glycol monobutyl ether" is merely one of the many examples of the broad teachings of oligoalkyleneglycol monoalkylethers. In view of the number of carbon ranges as used in the examples (col. 2, line 13-18), the examiner has a reasonable basis that the claimed polypropyleneglycol monoalkyl ether is inherently possessed in Ohta et al.

In view of the reasons set forth above, the rejection of claims 1, 10 is maintained.

Priority

6. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Japan on March 3, 2003. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the 2003-55175 application as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
